What is Early Intervention support for military families?

Early Intervention within EFMP is designed for children from birth to three years old, who have developmental delays or disabilities. These services aim to improve skills in areas such as speech and language, motor development, cognitive abilities, social emotional growth, and adaptive life skills. The goal is to help children overcome or manage developmental challenges and prepare them for future educational and life success.

The Early Intervention presentation in the link below will inform practitioners and challenges unique to children in the military population. It will bring awareness as to how these challenges can affect developmental milestones.

Article from: Military OneSource

This Early Intervention webinar will:

- Describe challenges unique to children in military families that may influence the acquisition of developmental milestones.
- Explain how early interventionists use recommended Practices to support military-related transitions and stressors.
- Summarize how the Educational and Developmental Intervention Services (EDIS) coaching framework supports family empowerment
